

The Second-Half Bucket List

*We did not come this far to coast.
Four lists, one quarter, three beginnings.*

From Farook's desk · behappyretired.com

The Second-Half Bucket List

A second-half bucket list is not about stunts — it's about refusing to coast. Fill the four lists honestly (small entries count double), then start this quarter. A list without a date is a wish; with a date, a plan.

Places near

Within a day trip — the market, the next town, the beach you keep postponing.

.....

.....

Places far

The ones that need a suitcase — and deserve one.

.....

.....

Things to learn

A language, an instrument, a dish, a dance, a phone trick. Da Vinci would approve.

.....

.....

People to see

Old friends, far family, the one you've owed a visit for years.

.....

.....

This quarter, I begin with three:

.....

.....

The first one starts on this date: _____

This worksheet pairs with We did not come this far to coast at behappyretired.com. One gentle letter a week, free. — Farook